

Spring 2022 | Statement Information

Payment for tuition, fees, and related charges are due January 5, 2022.

How your charges are calculated:

- Charges tuition is based on the number of credit hours in which you are enrolled. Full-time students are charged a flat rate for 12 credit hours or more. Part-time students are charged per credit hour. For specific tuition amounts, please see the TC3 website.
- Non-resident tuition is also reflected on your statement. If you are a NYS resident, please submit your Certificate of Residence. Once we receive your Certificate of Residence, non-resident tuition charges will be removed. If you are a NYS resident and do not submit the certificate, you are responsible for the non-resident tuition charges.

For more information on the Certificate of Residence see:

www.tompkinscortland.edu/admissions/certificate-residence

- Some fees are calculated on a per credit hour basis. Others, such as the Matriculation fee, are charged at a flat rate. Additionally, some courses will have specific fees associated only with the particular course. Those course fees are included in the course description found in the catalog. For specific information regarding fees, please see the TC3 website.
- Applicable charges for housing and meal plans are also a part of your tuition statement.
- If you have completed your FAFSA, your financial aid (applied or anticipated) will also show on your tuition statement. If you are expecting financial aid and it is not reflected on your tuition statement, verify that you have fully completed your FAFSA and no additional information has been requested. You may check your financial aid award by logging into your myTC3 account.

Your tuition statement is a reflection of your enrollment at the time the statement was generated.

- Any change you make to your schedule may have an effect on your statement.
- Adding a course may result in additional tuition and fees.
- Dropping a course may result in a reduction of your tuition and associated fees.
- Reducing the amount of enrolled credit hours may also result in a reduction in the amount of financial aid you receive.
- Changing sections of any given course could also result in changes in the course fees.
- If you make changes to your schedule online, you are responsible for checking your myTC3 account for updated information regarding your student account balance.
- If you make changes to your schedule by working with a staff member in Enrollment Services, a new tuition statement will be provided.
