

Dear Parent or Caregiver:

Your child is taking a Tompkins Cortland Community College course through the CollegeNow Concurrent Enrollment Program at their high school or BOCES. Through concurrent enrollment, students get a head start on their degree and career goals, strengthen their college applications, and develop tools for future success. All of this at no charge to you!

What you should know about CollegeNow's Concurrent Enrollment Program:

- These are college courses, which appear on an official Tompkins Cortland Community College transcript with the semesters, TC3 course names, and letter grades.
- Our College provides a scholarship so there is no cost to you or your district. Students residing outside of Cortland and Tompkins Counties must have an active Certificate of Residence on file. The forms are available from our website, the CollegeNow instructor, and school counselor.
- Expectations for the course are at the college level: rigorous course objectives; more work outside of class; tougher grading standards; and the expectation that students will come to class every day prepared to delve deeply into the material. The responsibility for academic success shifts to the student, including managing time, keeping up on assignments and deadlines, and reaching out to instructors and other school staff.
- Our CollegeNow instructors believe that future success in college is a function of an individual's maturity and previous experience as a student. Thus, we aim to provide your student with an authentic college experience that is more than course content. Guiding each student in the development of good academic habits is woven throughout CollegeNow course policies and daily practices. These habits enhance college readiness and support the skills necessary for them to meet the challenges of adulthood.
- Review with your child, the Student Resources at www.tompkinscortland.edu/collegenow. You will find information about concurrent enrollment, academic standards, transcripts, and free services, such as the library and tutoring. You will also find information on CollegeNow Online, which allows students to supplement their school's offerings through online college courses.
- Students may use credits earned toward a degree at Tompkins Cortland or transfer the credits to most colleges around the country, depending on the student's major, course grade, and college policies. Generally, a C or higher is needed to transfer. Every college sets its own policies governing transfer credit. Students should research the credit transfer policies and procedures at their colleges of interest. Surveys show that more than 90% of colleges accept concurrent enrollment credit.
- Students experiencing difficulty maintaining a desirable course average may withdraw from the course in accordance with the dates below to avoid receiving an unsatisfactory grade on their official college transcript. Poor grades and withdrawals may affect academic standing and financial aid.
